

The University of Virginia
Tenure-Track Faculty Position in
Experimental Nuclear Physics

The Department of Physics of the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the field of fundamental neutron physics, starting in September 2007. Under the terms of an agreement with the Oak Ridge National Laboratory (ORNL) this position will carry release time to enable the successful candidate to develop a strong research presence at ORNL/SNS. Applicants must hold a doctorate in physics and be committed to teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Prior experience in fundamental neutron experiments is preferred. Applicants should send a curriculum vitae, a one- or two-page statement of research and teaching interests, and have three letters of references sent to: phys-nucl-exp-pos@virginia.edu before December 31, 2006. The postal address is: Experimental Nuclear Physics Search Committee, Department of Physics, The University of Virginia, 382 McCormick Road, P.O. Box 400714, Charlottesville, VA 22904-4714, USA.

For information on our department please visit our website <http://www.physics.virginia.edu>. The University of Virginia is an Equal Opportunity/ Affirmative Action employer. Women and members of underrepresented minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.